

SELF TAPING INSTRUCTIONS (read carefully):

Slate at beginning should begin in close up (top of head to collarbone) and include name, height and talent agency, followed by camera pulling back to reveal head to toe and finally ending with a medium shot (top of head to mid chest) and then cut.

Audition should be framed top of head to waist. Please do two takes, straight to camera, using the supplied script. Be sure to read the specs for this Travel Host and remember that it's not a sales pitch but more a travel show style presentation. Bring your own interpretation for the first take, showing a bit of who you are. Do second take with a Jeff Probst (Survivor) kind of delivery — emphasizing the rugged challenge awaiting the viewer and the majestic scope of the environment. It's positive but challenging. Finally, do a third take with just a dash of grand prize winner enthusiasm and excitement. Get the viewer's attention by going bigger, while avoiding anything that would cheapen it. It should never come off as cheeky or comedic! If possible, please wear Bear Grylls style adventure attire in taping. This might include vests, khaki shirts, maybe fleece pullover. No hats, please.

Be sure the audition is well-lit with good quality sound. Solid backdrops work best. Outside light is good too. This could be shot in a backyard just as easily as in the home. NEVER POST AN AUDITION ON SOCIAL MEDIA OR YOUTUBE UNLESS IT'S PASSWORD PROTECTED!!!

Files should be .mov and labeling of your single movie file should consist of your NAME, your city and two letter state abbreviation, and your talent agency. Each bit of info is separated by an underscore with no spaces between words. It should look similar to this...

Example: MullenFamily_WinterParkFL_TalentAgency.mov

File size under 75MB appreciated. Be sure to merge all takes together into one single movie. For large files, please use a file transfer program like WeTransfer (preferred) or DropBox.

Send to: _____ and please include a phone number where you can be contacted (yours or your talent agent's).
